UNITED STATES
GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE
WASHINGTON : 1945

FOREWORD

In compliance with the provisions of the act of Congress approved July 5, 1884 (46 U. S. C. 4), directing that there shall be prepared and published annually a list of vessels of the United States belonging to the commercial marine, specifying the official number, signal letters, name, rig, tonnage, home port, and place and date of building of every such vessel, distinguishing in such list sailing vessels from such as may be propelled by steam or other motive power, there is published herein the name of every American merchant vessel and yacht which had an uncanceled document (register, enrollment and license, or license) on January 1, 1945, together with certain vessels operated by agencies of the United States Government. Other vessels (including numbered motorboats) are not listed herein, nor is a list of such vessels compiled or published by this Bureau.

The titles to certain of the vessels listed have been acquired by the United States, as represented by the United States Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration, without surrender of the vessels' documents, although the documents have been deposited with collectors of customs pending such action. Consequently, the vessels are still shown in the ownership which obtained prior to such transfers of title. These vessels are designated by daggers (†) following the names of the owners.

This publication is issued in two editions this year. This edition is classified as "confidential" and will not be sold. The other, designated as "restricted," omits pages 774–786 appearing herein. The restricted edition will be sold through the office of the Superintendent of Documents, but the sale will be carefully governed for the duration of the present war in order to guard against unwarranted use of the information contained therein.

W. R. JOHNSON,
Commissioner of Customs.

Official number.—A number awarded to every merchant vessel and yacht of the United States. It is permanently marked on the main beam and is retained throughout the life of the vessel.

Signal and radio-call letters.—Four letters awarded in certain instances, upon request, to seagoing vessels and yachts to afford means of recognition by signals at sea.

Rig.—The rig abbreviations used in this publication are:

Brg. =barge.
Brig =brig.
Bgn. =brigantine.
Bk. =bark.
Bkn. =barkentine.
Cat. =catboat.
Cnl. =canal boat.
Drg. =dredge.
El. s. =electric screw.
Ga. c. =gas cable.
Ga. p. =gas side wheel.
Ga. s. =gas screw.
Ga. w. =gas stern wheel.
H. bt. =houseboat.
Ol. c. =oil cable.
Ol. ct. =oil catamaran.
Ol. p. =oil side wheel.
Ol. s. =oil screw.
Ol. w. =oil stern wheel.
Sc. b. =schooner barge.
Sch. =schooner.

St. ct. =steam catamaran.
St. p. =steam side wheel.
St. w. =steam stern wheel.
St. s. =steam screw.
Ywl. =yawl.

Oil or gas engine.—Each motor vessel propelled by an engine in which the fuel combustion after starting is occasioned by heat generated wholly from compression of air in the cylinders (Diesel type), or from such heat and additional outside heat when this is not sufficient (semi-Diesel type), is indicated by ol. (ol. p., ol. s., ol. w.); and each motor vessel propelled by an engine in which the fuel is ignited by a spark, even though oil is used wholly or in part as fuel, is indicated by ga. (ga. p., ga. s., ga. w.).

Electrically driven vessels are reported in the list of steam vessels when the dynamos are actuated by steam turbines and in the list of motor vessels when actuated by oil engines.

Name of vessel.—The name of each vessel is printed exactly as it appears in the marine document and on the vessel, with the exception of the capitals and italics noted in the next paragraph. An asterisk (*) before the name of a vessel signifies that the vessel has had a former name or names. These names appear in the table on page 532. Another table, beginning on page 568, lists alphabetically the former names of merchant vessels, giving their present names and official numbers.

Material of hull.—The name of each steel vessel is printed in SMALL CAPITALS, each iron vessel in italics, and each wooden vessel in roman.

Oil fuel.—Each steam vessel fitted for burning oil is indicated by □.

Radio equipment.—Each vessel equipped with radio transmitting apparatus is indicated by ⊙.

Classification.—A ✚ indicates that the vessel so marked is classed by the American Bureau of Shipping.

Gross tonnage.—The gross tonnage of a vessel is the internal cubic capacity of all space in and on the vessel which is permanently enclosed, with the exception of certain permissible exemptions. It is expressed in tons of 100 cubic feet.

Net tonnage.—The net or register tonnage of a vessel is the remainder after deducting from the gross tonnage of the vessel the tonnage of crew spaces, master's accommodations, navigation spaces, allowance for propelling power, etc. It also is expressed in tons of 100 cubic feet.

Displacement tonnage.—The displacement tonnage of a vessel is the weight of the water in tons of 2,240 pounds displaced by the vessel.

Register length.—The register length of a vessel is the length measured on the top of the tonnage deck from the fore part of the outer planking or plating at the bow to the after part of the sternpost of screw steamers and to the after part of the rudderpost of other vessels. The register length is not usually the same as the over-all length nor the load-water-line length.

Register breadth.—The register breadth of a vessel is the breadth at its widest part measured from the outer side of the planking or plating on one side to the corresponding point on the opposite side.

Register depth.—The register depth of a vessel is the depth measured from the under side of the tonnage deck, amidships, to the bottom of the hold. The depth is not the draft of a vessel.

Year of build.—This is the year of completion of the vessel, as shown by the builder's certificate. When the year shown in this column is preceded by the letter r, the date given is the date of rebuilding of the vessel.

Place of build.—The place shown in this column in the case of vessels which have been rebuilt, as indicated by the letter r preceding the year of build in the preceding column, is the place of rebuilding of the vessel.

Service.—The particular trade or business in which the vessel is engaged. The abbreviations are:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Cbl. = cable. | Fsh. = fishing.[1] | Pls. = pleasure.[2] | Wat. = water boat. |
| Cod. = cod fishing. | I. Bk. = ice breaker. | Plt. = pilot boat. | Whl. = whale fishing. |
| Drg. = dredging. | Lgt. = lightering. | Pol. = police boat. | Wld. = welding. |
| Elr. = elevator. | Msc. = miscellaneous. | Ptl. = patrol boat. | Wrk. = wrecking. |

[1] Except cod and whale.
[2] Registered vessels of less than 16 gross tons used exclusively for pleasure.

Crew.—The number given in the marine document.

Horsepower.—The figures in this column represent the horsepower reported when the vessel was new or when the present engine was installed; b means brake horsepower (internal-combustion engine), and s means shaft horsepower (steam-turbine engine); figures not preceded by a letter represent indicated horsepower in the case of steam vessels and brake horsepower in the case of motor vessels.

Name of owner.—The name of the sole or, if there are two or more owners, the name of the managing owner, if any, or one of the owners is given. If the sole or managing owner is a corporation, the corporate name is given, except that the definite article is omitted when it forms part of the name. The abbreviation in parentheses following the name of a corporation indicates the State in which the corporation is organized.

A dagger (†) following the name of the owner indicates that the vessel has been acquired by the United States as represented by the United States Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration without surrender of the vessel's document in the absence of presentation to a collector of customs of formal evidence of acquisition, although the document has been deposited with a collector of customs pending such action.

The name of the owner shown in this publication is the name of the owner of legal title as evidenced by the outstanding document for the vessel on file in the Bureau on the date of publication.

Home port.—The home port is the port designated as such by the owner and approved by the Commissioner of Customs. It is the place where the permanent document of a vessel issues and where each bill of sale, conveyance, mortgage, assignment of mortgage, or hypothecation is recorded.
