1000	Late in the afternoon on the 21st, the Germans threw a small counter-attack against elements of our 100	Third Battalion near Fremifontaine. One of the shells which they threw landed among the ammunition of 194	the mortar section of Company M to which Private Gerald K. Tremmel, Cleveland, Ohio, belonged. The ammunition started to burn and Tremmel realized that if
