Comment: While as yet an unconfirmed movement, the introduction into Korea of an additional 105,000 fresh Chinese Communist troops would add considerably to the Communist offensive potential. However, the problem of supplying these new divisions would further complicate the Communists' logistical position.

	with a total of "80 T-35 armed vehicles" moved from the Harbin area to Korea for employment following "the breakdown of the cease-fire talks." Comment: additional armor has been moved into Korea. Currently accepted Communist armored strength in Korea, however, is only 148 T-34 tanks, reflecting the equipment of the North Korean 105th Tank Division and independent armored	4.
