12th CONGRESS.]

No. 91.

[1st Session.

NUMBER OF VESSELS IN SERVICE, AND ESTIMATES OF REPAIRING AND FITTING FOR SERVICE THOSE IN ORDINARY.

COMMUNICATED TO THE SENATE, FEBRUARY 21, 1812.

Mr. GILES, from the committee appointed to consider "the bill concerning the naval establishment," reported amendments to the said bill; together with the following documents explanatory of the same.

COMMITTEE CHAMBER, December 12th, 1811.

SIR:

In obedience to instructions from the committee of the Senate to whom so much of the President's message, as concerns our foreign relations is referred, I do myself the honor to request information from you upon the following points:

- 1st. What is the number of ships of war now in service and the force of them, respectively?
 - 2d. Are any repairs necessary for them at this time, and, if so, what would be the probable expense of such repairs?
 - 3d. Are there any ships of war worthy of repair, not now in service?
 - 4th. If so, what would be the probable expense of such repairs?
 - 5th. Within what time could such repairs probably be completed?
 - 6th. What additional number of men would be required to man such ships when repaired?
 - 7th. What would be the probable expense of the officers and men required for manning such ships for one year?
- And, also, the expenses of the officers and men of the ships, now in service, for the same period?

Be pleased, sir, to accept assurances of my high consideration, &c.

WM. B. GILES, *Chairman.*The Honorable PAUL HAMILTON, Secretary of the Navy.
