

The subject merits the attention of Congress, and will receive all the consideration of the commissioners, to complete such an establishment as may meet the public expectations, and furnish relief to those brave officers and men, whose faithful services and wounds entitle them to all the benefits, accommodation, and comfortable maintenance which such an asylum can afford.

Report relative to the establishment of a dock-yard.

The act of March 3, 1813, appropriating "one hundred thousand dollars for the purpose of establishing a dock-yard, for repairing vessels of war," &c. could not be carried into effect during the late war, from the multiplicity of imperious duties which devolved upon the Secretary of the Navy in the active operations of the general service. The subject, however, received all the attention which the Secretary could bestow upon it; surveys of particular sites, and the opinions of experienced and scientific men, were collected, preparatory to a decision, which was suspended by the events of the year 1814; and no further measures were taken until after the peace. During the summer past inquiries and surveys have been made, the result of which will be laid early before Congress. The importance of this appendage to the naval establishment, the necessary arrangements connected with it, and the amount requisite to carry the system into complete effect, require a more detailed statement and estimate than can be embraced in the present report, without anticipating the result of a survey in the southern section of the United States, which is not yet completed.

I cannot omit this occasion of repeating the opinion of the absolute necessity and urgency of having docks constructed as soon as possible, for the repairs of our vessels of war.
