

Juggling corporate politics and parenthood during Jedi training

Study tips for absorbing new technology

Step One: Read

- O'Reilly books (the ones with the animals on it) are helpful.
- Forums like ASP.net and PHP.net can help when you get stuck
- Some authors create their own message boards, like Jesse Liberty
- Carry your books with you

Step Two: Practice

- Intermittently practicing the code you learn is key
- For Web development, you don't necessarily need to have a server: you can practice on your own computer (localhost)

Step Three: Code

- Your newsroom is your audience, listen for their feedback
- Make the IT people your friends if you can
- Check on widgets regularly for errors.
